

Property Manager

Limited property portal access for Diana, Alana, Allen, and future apartment staff.

Property Portal

Property Managers can submit and review queue items for their assigned property and see property-level reports. They should not see company financials, other clients, other properties, invoices, admin settings, or internal business tools.

What This Role Can Access

- Dashboard, Queue, Schedule, and Reports for the assigned property.
- Add one unit or several units to the queue.
- Review readiness, schedule, remediation, flooring, paint type, priority, and renovation details.
- Run property-level reports without company-wide financial information.

Important Guardrails

- Property Manager access should only show the assigned property.
- Do not use this role for R&L; or Just Kleen office staff who need invoices or payments.
- Submit clear unit notes so the work can be estimated and scheduled correctly.
- If a unit belongs to a different property, contact the owner instead of entering it under the wrong property.

Add Several Units at Once

1. Open Queue and choose New Queue Item.
2. Enter the property and paste unit numbers separated by commas or on separate lines.
3. Fill in shared dates, paint type, flooring, priority, remediation, notes, and renovation information.
4. Submit the form. Trimax creates one queue item per unit.

Use Renovation Tracking

1. If the unit was already renovated, choose Yes for prior renovation and enter details such as Previous PrideRock Reno.
2. If the unit now needs renovation, choose Yes for renovation needed and enter what work is needed.
3. Trimax keeps this information with the unit history so future reports can show which units were previously renovated and which units still need renovation.

Review Status

1. Use Queue to see whether a unit is pending estimate, scheduled, completed, or needs attention.
2. Use Schedule to review upcoming work dates.
3. Use Reports to review property history, readiness, schedule risk, remediation, and renovation information.

Workspace reminder: Trimax supports more than one business. Always confirm you are working in the correct workspace before creating queue items, estimates, invoices, services, payments, or reports.
